“ I met Robin through St. Paul's Church and we worked together on the Hospitality Committee and many Turkey Dinners at St. Paul's. At one point the Maryland Department of Health suggested that any pies that contained eggs in their recipe should be made on premises at St. Paul's.

Of course, most of us ignored this and continued to make our pies at home and then bring to St. Paul's.

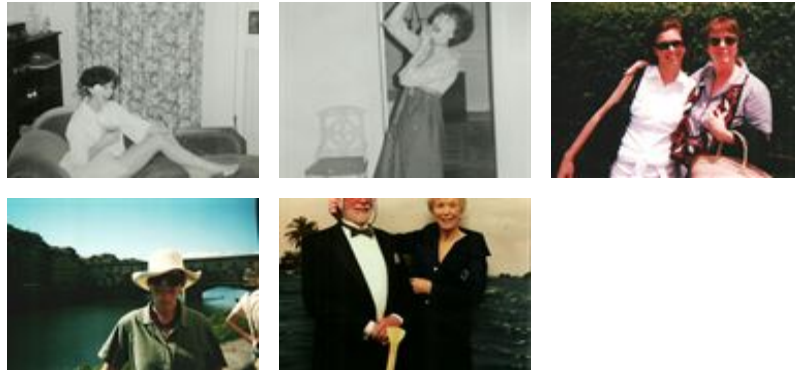

But Robin, in her sweet, gracious, kind, way dutifully came into church to make her pecan pies. An example to us all in many ways.

Sincere affection to her and Bob,
Karen Biddle

“ Robin, I remember when we met for lunch at Evergrain in Chestertown and you complained about being unable to gain weight. You ate three pieces of cheese while I had a sandwich. We thought our lunch choices were hilarious and went off shopping arguing about cheese versus bread. Trying on clothes then distracted us completely.

“ Robin was a true, classy Southern Lady. Her ready smile and words of wisdom will be missed. I loved to make her laugh. The sound brought me joy. When I was in recovery she was always a support. She was my friend.

Robin and I became friends while working out in the Aqua Fit Gym. Robin always had a lovely smile and was truly a "class act".
