“ To all of Ronnie’s family, I offer you my warmest condolences on your loss.

I knew Ronnie for most of my life — from our high school days, when we were always full of grand plans for our futures — to the past 15 years or so, when we would talk at length, and would pick up our conversations, as though we still lived near each other.

Ronnie was thoughtful, brilliant, and inventive. He was so capable and so full of creative ideas, despite the challenges that he never allowed to get in his way. I will miss my friend very much...
