“ Rose Mary was a wonderful student in the graduate level seminars on ancient Near Eastern history and literature conducted by myself and my brother teacher Rabbi Peter Hyman. We enjoyed her presence in our classrooms not only because she read our hybrid reading materials but brought friends to share in the love of learning our tough stuff. She became all the more special when I learned her son Dan is among our select committee of presidents of the Eastern Shore Area Health Education Center, another brother. So, in a sense, she's family. May she rest in Peace, and Light Perpetual shine upon her. +Joel Marcus Johnson
