“ I hope this message is received in the spirit it is being sent. My name is Sandra Chillas and today, this obituary popped up on my Google Alerts on my name.

As I read Sandy's obituary, I realized we had many things in common. We are both very close in age. We both married a Chillas (my husband told me when we were dating that there aren't many Chillas's but everyone knows a Chillas) and it turns out my husband and her husband were actually related. You see, I also am very interested in Ancestry and I found Sandy in my husband's family tree.

In addition to both marrying a Chillas, I always thought I would love to drive a school bus, I LIVE in Lancaster, and I love my pets and my children very much. Even though we have never met - I feel a connection and wish to offer my condolences to the family. I hope you find comfort and peace in many memories, I am sure you have made with Sandy. Blessings!
