GU

Shirley & Henry were my next door neighbors in North Carolina. She'd call me on the phone with some delicious dessert she had whipped up and wanted to share. I'd meet her in her back yard under a small area of pine trees where we'd discuss everything from current events to vegetable soup recipes to stories about her Quaker parrot. I emminently enjoyed having her as a friend, and already miss her terribly. Having lost my own wife to cancer three years ago, I know the pain and loss Henry is experiencing. My sincere condolences to her entire family.
