“ There is a hole in my heart. I will miss the sharing of everything that Suzie and I shared. We couldn't wait to tell the other about a movie we had seen, a book that we had read, a recording we liked, a funny story of a family get-together. Suzie loved her family without bounds. Her heart encompassed all the dreams and aspirations of the Reid/Martin family. She wasn't happier than when she was singing with her Dad, or eating a prune cake of her mom's, or hearing about a special event in Will, Scott, Parker, Lynn or Madeline's life. She shared everything with her sister Lou Ann and was eternally grateful for the full and caring help both Lou and Bill provided. There was only room for one other thing: her beloved children, her cats and she loved those guys beyond measure. I'll miss her lilting voice, her laugh and her quick wit, but she's still firmly there in my heart.....next to the hole.....susan
