“ Tammy it’s hard to believe you’re gone life took us in different directions as we got older but the times we had while together will be remembered always, from you having Chels and Pud and me having Cole, you were there with me when I went in labor with Cole from walking Millington to speed it along up until the delivery you never left my side, we may have had differences along the way but we usually found our way back to hanging out I grew to be Aunt Jo to the kids and we we were family. We definitely made the best of our nights out maybe not the best decisions but we had a good time. I’ll always be Aunt to the kids and I’ll always remember the days from Ingleside to Millington and the craziness in between sorry for not stopping by and seeing you over the years but know I love you no matter what and I pray you’re at peace.

“ Sorry to hear of the passing of Tammy 🥹. Tammy had a hard core exterior, most loved that about her. But she also had a caring heart and would always have your back. Rest in peace with your Dad and Mom. Sending thoughts and prayers to your immediate family (Tony, Chelsea, Roland and Grandbabies) as well as extended family and friends. ❤️ 🕊️ ✝️
