“ Aunt Lil, Justin, Becca and the rest of the family~
Tina was not just my cousin, but she was my best friend. I can remember way back to when Justin was born, and thinking Tina was "cool". Then as we got older, we got closer. Tina showed me, as well as everyone else she was in contact with, what the words "fight" and "determination" really meant. I remember talking to her one day after she had her reconstructive surgery, and I told her how in awe I was of her....she said "It's nothing, cancer is a matter of positive thinking". When it came back this last time, I cried when she told me.....again, she said "It's nothing positive thoughts wont take care of"..... If there was one word to describe Tina, it is STRONG!!!! I will never stop admiring her strength.
Justin & Becca..... I dont know what your going thru, but I hope you always know that your mom loved you dearly & she will always be a part of you. Aunt Lil.... I know Tina loved you very much & she would not want you to mourn for her. I think each of us have been blessed to have Tina as a part of our lives.... I know I was. I will never for get you Tina.... I Hope You Walk With God and Sleep With Angels For Eternity##imported-begin##Heather Johnson##imported-end##

“ Sorry to hear about Tina's battle and loss against breast cancer. While I may not know Tina - her brother Ted is a friend and leader in the MD NWTF and his loss is our loss. May God bless and provide comfort to Tina's children and her brother Ted and his family during this time of mourning.

“ Lil, Justin & Becca, Tina will always hold a special place in my heart. She was born on my birthday and I watched her grow up. She was her own person & when she became ill she never complained. She was a very giving person to her family. Cherish the memories of her. She had a laugh you could not forget and I know that she & her father are up there taking care of each other. Prayers go out to the whole family & know that Tina loved her life & lived it her way. God bless all of you.##imported-begin##Margaret & Bradford##imported-end##

“ Looking back, I really don't remember a time when I didn't know Tina. From being kids riding the school bus to church and Sunday School to all the funny jokes she would email to me. Tina was very much her own person and was never afraid to tell it like it is. Mrs. Lil, Becca and Justin, please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers as you go thru this sad time. I know all of you will hold her memory close to your hearts forever. I hope you find comfort and peace knowing that her pain and worries have all gone as she's now held in God's arms.##imported-begin##Libby (Cook) Walls##imported-end##
