Wilbur Nelson Baumann, III of Chester, Md passed away peacefully with family on October 20, 2019 at his home. He was 70.

Born on September 6, 1949 in Baltimore, MD, he was the son of the late Dr. Wilbur Nelson Baumann, Jr. and Mary Howard Simmons Baumann, long time residents of Cambridge, MD. Wil and his wife Teresa spent the past 12 years overlooking Eastern Bay to the joy of friends and family they frequently entertained. Wil had expert knowledge of Eastern Shore artists, wood boat and decoy builders and was always pleased to share his knowledge and collections.

In recent years he became an avid poker player. He was a member of the VFW, the Clemson Alumni Association, and had served as president of the Southwind homeowners association.

“ Hi Mrs. Baumann,
I sad to learn of the loss of your dear husband. I knew Wilbur when we growing up in Cambridge, MD. He was the older brother of Tom who was my age and year in school. Tom and I were friends and dated occasionally. I went to a couple of dances with him while he was in school at Woodbury Forest. I was stunned when Tom died suddenly in his 20's. Wilbur and Tom's father was our family's primary care physician. My mother who worked in the lab at Dorchester General Hospital had utmost respect for him. My parents were social with his parents, especially Mary Howard. I remember your husband through the active youth sailing community in Cambridge. Unfortunately I didn't get to know him as well as I should because when you are young you don't generally get to know a friend's siblings. I am truly sorry that you are grieving his loss. These last weeks with him must have wrenched your soul. I pray time and courage, family and friends will help you sail through these rough waters.
In Sincere Sympathy,
Angela Peterman
