

William Ward "Will" Creager

October 14, 1984 - July 5, 2020

William Ward Creager, 35, died recently at his home in Chestertown, MD.

Will was born in Washington, DC, and was raised in Chestertown. He graduated from Kent County High School in 2002. After high school, he moved to New Orleans where he earned a degree in art from Loyola University. He remained in New Orleans where he worked at various iconic music venues including The House Of Blues and Tipitina's. After leaving New Orleans, he returned to Chestertown and worked closely with his father, William F Creager, in real estate appraisal. Will was a talented athlete and a gifted artist, but his greatest gift was his quick wit and ability to make his friends and family laugh.

Will is survived by his mother, Mary Lee Martelli and stepfather, Craig Butcher; his father, William F Creager; his sister, Eleanore Armani; his brother, Andrew Armani; his stepsister, Katharine Butcher; and his nieces, nephews, uncles, aunts and cousins. Services will be private and the family suggests memorial donations be made to the Kent County Humane Society.
