

William C. Reynolds

January 7, 1943 - December 28, 2025

On this day, December 28, 2025, our beloved William C. Reynolds passed on to begin his next adventure. He was born in January of 1943 with an insatiable curiosity. Driven to know all the answers to any questions, he read every book he could get his hands on. He graduated from Canton High School in 1961 then served in the US Army in Regensburg, Germany during the Berlin Crisis. He returned to study at Mansfield College, Penn State University and Villanova University. In 1965 He stepped into computer system development for Prudential Insurance. Influence by John Steinbeck and Travels with Charley he began to explore. He scaled many mountains, hiked many valleys, crossed rivers and oceans in search of knowledge. Bill visited nearly every country to see, feel and understand all that there was to take in. A big man with a warm heart. If you knew him, you loved him and he loved you in return. He leaves behind his wife Linda Tebbs Reynolds, a son David and wife Ruth, 3 Grandchildren, a sister, Linda Jennings, and a brother, John Reynolds.

“ My cousin Bill – what a fun playmate in our childhood years, while visiting our grandparents. And later, Bill’s fearless embrace of challenging college and university studies, plus his challenging career choices, were super impressive. I am sad to have seen him so infrequently in later years – but very proud to have had such an illustrious cousin. Thank you, Bill!

“ Many decades ago , in a very old farmhouse ,I had the pleasure of sharing conversation with Bill. As educated as he was he never made me feel “ uneducated “ , though formally.. I was and still am. He was an absolute thrill to listen to... he had a way of making you feel as though you mattered. He listened... genuinely listened. He could go as deep into a conversation as you wanted or, if too serious... he could turn it into a joke He knew when the fence was too to climb over after pondering whether what was on the other side was worth the climb. A humble and fun man who never never hesitated swinging from a vine. (some of you may remember that!). I read many years ago the following: Let us be grateful to the people who make us happy, the charming gardeners who make our souls blossom! Bill was a “ gardener “ who made a lot of souls blossom... for that is how I remember him!

“ Bill and I have traveled the world together in Virtual Reality. We went to every country. Every temple ,wonder and monument. Saw ancient sites and wandered through the most beautiful buildings. We shared a special bond through my 76 years of life.He was my teacher and guide of life.I know I am biased but he is (was) the finest man I have ever known.
